To the Members of the Board of Trustees of Lebanon Valley College:

The following is the report of the Finance Committee for the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1930, and ending August 31, 1931. Your Committee is also supplying a supplementary report for a part of the fiscal year of 1931-1932, ending with June 1, 1932.

Following the practice of last year, we are furnishing comparative statements throughout the report, comparing this present fiscal year with the previous year. An examination of the report will show a net gain added to the assets of the College of last year of $24,073.24.

Income

While the report for the year 1930-1931 shows some decline in the income, the supplementary report of the income for this current year will be considerably further reduced. During this present year we will expect at least $2,000 less from the benevolence budget. Through the agreement with the Publishing House on their bonds, we will be forced to forego at least $2,200 of interest on these bonds for one year, and an additional amount of approximately $4,000 income from bonds that are now in default. With this reduced income, there was added last year an increase of approximately $12,000 in faculty salaries over and above the additional income from tuition, making a shortage of approximately $20,000 in income compared with previous years.

Securities

In common with the banks and other business institutions, there has been, during this last year, a very considerable depreciation in our bond account and some of the issues, once considered very good, are now in default. There are during this present year approximately $60,000 par value bonds in default distributed as follows: Real Estate Bonds $10,500, Utilities-Holding Companies $20,000, Industrial $8,000, Municipal $10,000, Railroad Bonds $10,000. Some of these issues will be re-organized and we feel sure that we will not have any losses, while others promise to be rather disappointing in their reorganizations, and we may possibly sustain serious losses in a few of these issues. It has always been the policy of the Committee in making purchases or exchanges to consult the best possible advice that we could obtain, and are subscribers to the Standard Statistics Service, whose rating of bonds we accept, and practically all of these issues were rated favorably by this service as well as highly recommended by the Underwriting Bankers. When we take into account the entire list of securities I feel confident that the percentage of loss will be very reasonable, especially under the present circumstances. In addition to the defaults in bonds, we are also informed that the participating certificates of Kreuger & Toll are at the present time of very little value.

Student Accounts

This has been an especially hard year to collect the accounts of students. Notwithstanding the present conditions, we hope to close this present year with the outstanding accounts at a minimum.

Repairs

The heating pipes between the Men's Dormitory and North Hall were relaid. A water line was put into the same trench sufficiently large to take care of future requirements. These repairs cost $3,982. The third floor of Engle Hall was reconstructed, costing $9,881. It was discovered that the construction of the old building was faulty at certain spots, which had to be remedied, increasing the cost somewhat. North Hall was entirely renovated including the plumbing, electric wiring, new floors, at a cost of $17,622. The Y. M. C. A. Room was constructed at a cost of $3,168.33. In addition $465.16 was spent for equipment, being paid out of money collected from individuals, etc. The entire amount expended for repairs, including the small items in the other buildings not enumerated above, was $36,267.65. The total amount expended for equipment last summer was $13,239.10.
